DRAGON A321 AT YANGON ON NOV. 25, 2015, BIRD STRIKE

News / Airlines

A Dragonair Airbus A321-200, registration B-HTF performing flight KA-251 from Yangon (Myanmar) to Hong Kong (China) with 131 people on board, was climbing out of Yangon's runway 03 when a bird impacted the right hand windshield and caused it to crack. The crew stopped the climb at 10,000 feet and returned to Yangon for a safe landing on runway 21 about 30 minutes after departure.

The airline confirmed a bird strike, the passengers were taken to hotels and rebooked onto other flights.

30 NOVEMBER 2015

SOURCE: THE AVIATION HERALD
ARTICLE LINK:
https://ut.50skyshades.com/news/airlines/dragon-a321-at-yangon-on-nov-25-2015-bird-strike

© 2015-2026 50SKYSHADES.COM — Reproduction, copying, or redistribution for commercial purposes is prohibited.