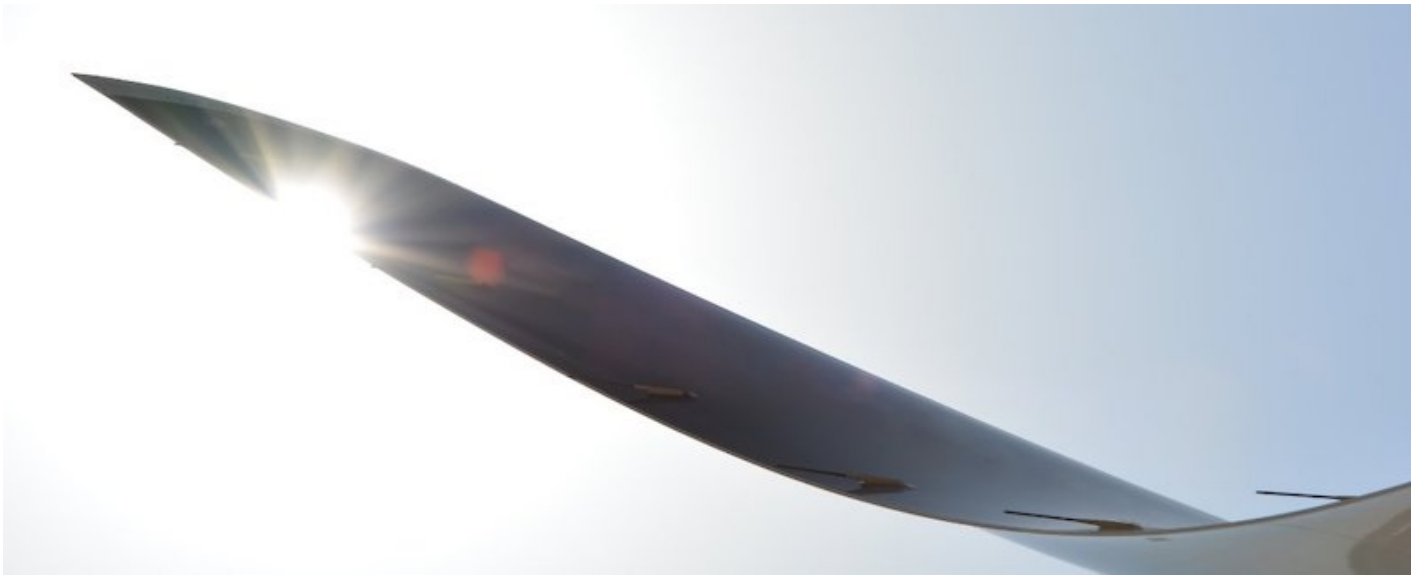
A LEGACY OF TRUST - SPARFELL AVIATION GROUP NEW VENTURE IN THE UNITED STATES

News / Business aviation



Sparfell Aviation Group is expanding to the United States. They are opening a new branch in Washington DC, led by Brandt Boyle as the Vice President of Aircraft Trading of the group and his son J.P. Boyle as an Aircraft Sales Executive. SPARFELL is creating a bridge between the United States market and the European market to offer to its clients the best of both worlds: a global solution for every need and the best-in-class service across all markets.

As SPARFELL's chairman, Philip Queffelec says: "When the decision was made to create a new SPARFELL branch in the United States of America, I naturally called upon my trusted friend Mike Boyle, with whom I have a business relationship of more than 30 years, as well as his son Brandt, and his grandson J.P. We, my son and myself, are very proud and honoured to work with the 3 generations of the Boyle family, that perfectly reflect our own family history, our passion for aviation and our spirit of loyalty towards our clients. We are delighted to embark on this new American challenge together."

With strong principles of loyalty and family spirit, both families represent 3 generations of aviators. The parallels between the Queffelec's and the Boyle's are undeniable, as this lays the foundation of a successful collaboration. We are excited to join with the Queffelec family to bring the SPARFELL brand to the United States, and are honoured to be a part of their premier aviation legacy. Sparfell USA is committed to providing SPARFELL's global clientele with personal and trustworthy representation here in the world's largest aircraft market. The transactional brokerage services we will oversee in the US will be a great benefit to customers who are already part of the SPARFELL family in our aircraft management and charter business in Europe. And for our US clients, the added reach into the European market via the local expertise of our office in Geneva will be of great value. We also look forward to introducing our US customers to the first-in-class aircraft management and charter service offered by SPARFELL," says Brandt Boyle, Vice President of Aircraft Trading.

With over 22 years of experience, a strong worldwide network of contacts and numerous domestic and international transactions completed, Brandt serves his clients with the highest level of professionalism and integrity. His son J.P. follows in his footsteps, keeping up the family tradition of excellence and trustworthiness in business aviation.

SPARFELL is very optimistic about the future of aircraft trading within the group, as its activities are built from heritage, by people who adhere to highest standards of aviation values. With a US team now on site in the United States, SPARFELL offers a wide range of opportunities to clients by relying on its international network of professionals around the world – a truly integrated and synergistic system, aimed at satisfying any client need.
