CARLSBAD JET CENTER AND SONOMA JET CENTER BECOME FIRST WYVERN WINGMAN PRO FBOS

News / Business aviation

WYVERN announced that both Sonoma Jet Center and Carlsbad Jet Center have achieved certification as WYVERN Wingman PRO FBOs. This milestone reflects each organization's dedication to operational discipline, structured risk management, and a mature safety culture. Wingman PRO certification validates more than compliance. It recognizes organizations that embed safety into daily operations. Through a comprehensive evaluation process, both centers demonstrated strong oversight practices, defined accountability structures, and a proactive approach to continuous improvement. Clients can have confidence that operational standards are not only documented, but actively lived.

Josh Hochberg, CEO of Sonoma Aviation commented: "Our team is honored to have earned the first WYVERN Wingman PRO certification. It is an incredible recognition of our daily commitment to safe operations and the strong safety culture we have built to help our team and our operations continuously improve."

Andy Day, WYVERN Chief Operating Officer stated: "Through leadership, dedication, and a strong safety-first mindset, Sonoma Jet Center and Carlsbad Jet Center have proven themselves a standout in the FBO industry. We are thrilled to recognize their success and welcome them as the first WYVERN Wingman PRO FBO members."
