FALCON AVIATION ADD AW169 AND AW189 TO ITS FLEET

News / Business aviation

Abu Dhabi based Falcon Aviation is to fly the latest generation AW169 following the delivery of two AW189s in July 2015, reports European Business Air News.

"We have established our position as a market leader in executive aviation services and offshore oil support in the Middle East," said COO Raman Oberoi. "I believe that we are setting the benchmark for the industry in terms of safety, quality and customer service."
