Fly Alliance announces the launch of Jet Paw Lounge by Fly Alliance, the world's first dedicated Dog FBO, opening in mid-April at Teterboro Airport (KTEB). Jet Paw Lounge has been designed to support and elevate the growing ecosystem of pet-focused private aviation. Fly Alliance has partnered with pet travel specialists, who charter flights through Fly Alliance and offer individual seats to their clients and their dogs with domestic and worldwide destinations. The introduction of Jet Paw Lounge enhances this model by providing a purpose-built, pet-first terminal experience—further elevating the journey from departure to arrival.

departure, while individual, soundproofed pet suites—each approximately 100 square feet—provide quiet, low-stimulation spaces designed to reduce anxiety. Separate zones based on size and temperament ensure a safe, tailored experience for every dog.

When it’s time to depart, the transition is seamless. Aircraft are positioned directly outside the lounge, allowing dogs and their owners to walk straight from the space to the plane—eliminating the noise, congestion, and unpredictability of traditional terminals.

President and Co-Founder of Fly Alliance, Christopher Tasca commented: “Jet Paw Lounge is a natural evolution of what private aviation should be. Our clients don’t travel without their dogs, so we built an experience that reflects that reality. This isn’t about accommodating pets—it’s about designing the journey around them.”

Fly Alliance has spent the past seven years redefining private aviation through innovation, operational excellence, and a highly personalized approach. The company expanded to Teterboro Airport in 2024, establishing a presence in one of the most important private aviation hubs in the world. The launch of Jet Paw Lounge marks its next evolution—one that reflects both changing client expectations and the growing demand for seamless, pet-inclusive travel.

As demand continues to rise among high-net-worth travelers, Fly Alliance is positioning Jet Paw Lounge as the new global standard, with plans to expand the concept to additional key aviation markets. By launching Jet Paw Lounge, Fly Alliance is not simply enhancing private aviation—it is redefining it. Because in today’s world of luxury travel, it’s no longer just about where you’re going, it’s about who you’re traveling with.
