blends the most exquisite aspects of private aviation and charter yachts.”

Raphael Sauleau, CEO, IYC Yachts, said: “We are excited about the possibilities this partnership brings and the opportunities it presents for our clients to create extraordinary experiences, combining the freedom of yachting with the convenience and speed of helicopter transportation. Whether our clients are looking for a convenient way to join us during the Palm Beach International Show, fly from Nantucket to the Hamptons for dinner, head over to their preferred golf course, or travel to and from their jet, we look forward to providing a seamless journey together with HeliFlite. Whether on the sea or in the sky, we want to make our clients’ journeys count, save them time, and maximize their travel with memorable experiences so they can not only enjoy their destination, but cherish the journey there too.”

The newfound relationship will provide HeliFlite with opportunities to demonstrate and exercise the ultimate in UHNWI travel, their proven-safe aircraft landing on yacht helipads. A feature of both luxury and versatility, HeliFlite’s increased access via its new partnership with IYC underscores both brands’ continued dedication to optimal convenience and partnerships to maximize the client experience. From float to fly, HeliFlite and IYC have you covered now more than ever.

Transportation between superyachts and quick, luxurious helicopter rides is now seamless through the joint efforts of HeliFlite and IYC – leading innovators focused on making the impossible possible and forging the landscape for what we define as truly exceptional.
