Attendance hit a record high at Air Charter Expo (ACE'17), hosted at London Biggin Hill Airport, with over 800 industry professionals enjoying a varied programme of meetings, presentations and talks from more than 80 exhibitors.

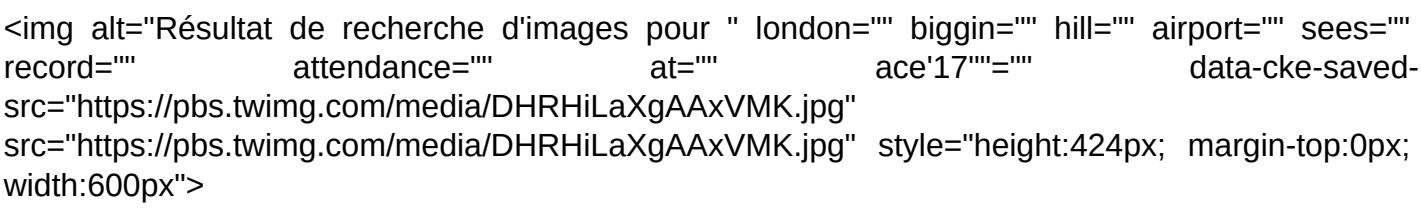

Presented this year for the first time by BACA The Air Charter Association in partnership with Stansted News Limited, the annual event is the UK's only conference solely for air charter brokers and operators, and brings together the best of the trade at London's only dedicated business aviation airport.

Andy Patsalides, marketing manager, London Biggin Hill Airport, says: "At this year's event we have seen a fantastic representation of exhibitors and this, combined with the ease of access to London Biggin Hill, has certainly helped to increase attendance.

"With over 20 business aircraft on display, including the first UK demonstration of the new Dassault Falcon 8X, ACE'17 brought together tangible aircraft experiences with discussions on the
