NEXT AERO FRIEDRICHSHAFEN TO TAKE PLACE IN APRIL 2021

News / Events / Festivals

Our world has been turned upside down. Nevertheless, it is still imperative for Messe Friedrichshafen to look to the future. Since the coronavirus forced us to postpone the AERO Friedrichshafen scheduled for April 1 to 4, 2020, we have considered many possible options for rescheduling the event to take place on a later date. The result of these deliberations is that the next edition of the leading trade fair for general aviation will take place from April 14 to 17, 2021. "Neither the calendar of Messe Friedrichshafen nor the events taking place within the industry would have allowed easy rescheduling to the summer or fall of this year. After considering all the pros and cons, we found that a date in 2021 would be the only reasonable and acceptable way forward for the entire industry," says Head of AERO Roland Bosch, explaining the decision.
