EASYJET RENEWS BASE MAINTENANCE CONTRACT WITH SR TECHNICS MALTA

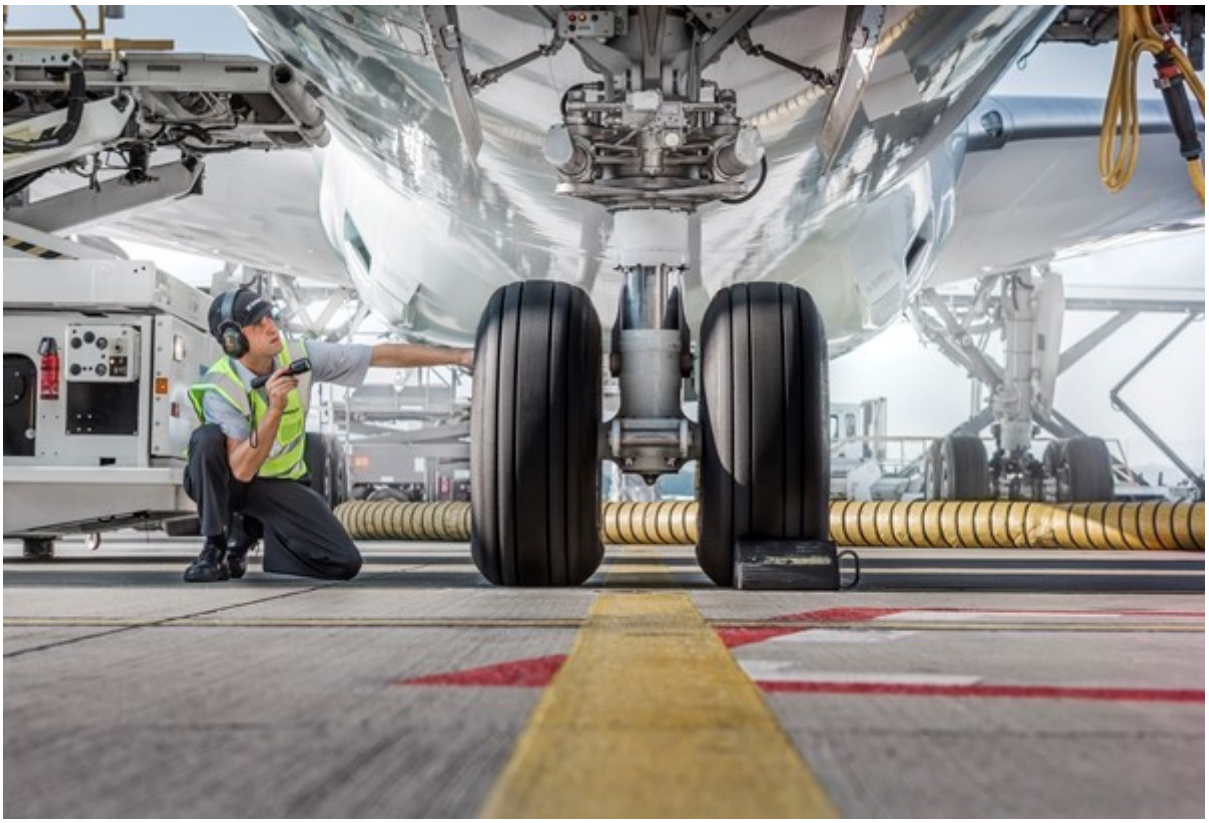

News / Airlines, Maintenance / Trainings

easyJet has been supported by SR Technics for a range of MRO services over the years. By December 2022, SR Technics will have serviced a total of 35 aircraft under this particular agreement and expects to handle up to a total of 45 aircraft by the completion of the contract. While the work to date had been done at the existing facility in Malta, it will soon continue at the MRO supplier's new six-bay hangar scheduled to open at the Malta Airport in Safi in February 2022.

Daniel Galea, SR Technics Malta Vice President Operations, said: ''We are immensely delighted and honored to secure this contract extension with our highly valued and important customer easyJet. It has been an incredible journey since 2010, and we look forward to continuing delivering our services to the highest safety and quality standards.''

Brendan McConnellogue, easyJet Director of Engineering and Maintenance commented: "We are extremely pleased to be extending our relationship with the SR Technics team in Malta. It’s hard to believe that it has been more than 11 years since SR Technics delivered the first A319 IV check back to easyJet, and they continue to support us in ensuring the highest levels of operational safety for our fleet , all with the same dedication and enthusiasm, as they did on the very first aircraft back in 2010.”
