RECARO AIRCRAFT SEATING AND LATAM AIRLINES GROUP INTRODUCE PREMIUM COMFORT WITH PL3530 SEATING SOLUTION

News / Airlines

RECARO Aircraft Seating announce its retrofit collaboration with LATAM Airlines Group for their new premium comfort cabin to outfit Boeing 787-8 and 787-9 aircraft in 2027. The program includes 41 shipsets of the PL3530 long-range premium class seat, with the first shipset delivery scheduled for the first half of 2027.

Paulo Miranda, Vice President of Customers at LATAM Airlines Group commented: “Premium Comfort reflects our deep understanding of our customers’ evolving needs and our commitment to providing more options so every passenger can travel the way they want. It is a product that combines comfort, space, and high-level service with exceptional value, and it also represents a statement of how we envision the future of flying from South America to the world: a journey where privacy, design, and the warmth of our region come together to create a unique experience.”

Dr. Mark Hiller, CEO of RECARO Aircraft Seating and RECARO Holding stated: “Our close collaboration with LATAM will result in a truly unique seat for their Premium Comfort Class passengers. The PL3530 model offers premium comfort, elevates privacy to a new level, and will be a standout addition to their fleet and the South American market.”
